On the Integrated Theoretical Learning of the Grass-roots Party Organizations in Colleges and Universities in the New Era

Yuanyuan Xiong*, Mingfeng Yang

School of Foreign Languages, Sichuan Normal University, Chengdu, Sichuan, China.

Abstract

The grass-roots party organizations in colleges and universities are the basis of all the work of the party leading colleges and universities in the new era bearing the burden and mission of training the public for socialism. In the new era, the grass-roots party organizations in colleges and universities have encountered new situations and new challenges. The young students and student party members it guides are primarily “the post-00s generation”. The spirit of the 20th CPC National Congress and the thought of socialism with Chinese characteristics in the new era provide theoretical connotation for the political construction of grass-roots party organizations in colleges and universities. The grass-roots student party organizations in colleges and universities should widely carry out the penetrating education of political theory learning, promote the construction of learning party organizations, enhance the political consciousness of student party branches, and better play the role of fighting fortress through the study and preaching of important theories such as the spirit of the 20th National Congress.

Keywords

Grass-roots Party Organizations in Colleges and Universities, Political Construction, the Spirit of the 20th CPC National Congress, Integrated Education
1. Strengthen political construction and enhance the leading role of grassroots Party organizations in colleges and universities

The Communist Party of China has unremittingly boosted the strict administration of the party in all periods of revolution, construction and reform. This is a vivid manifestation of the Party Central Committee’s high attention to the party’s need to manage the party and strictly govern the party. In the new era, the grass-roots party organizations in colleges and universities should strengthen political construction, so as to fully ensure that the party’s education will always maintain its original intention, unswervingly implement the party’s education policy, and constantly consolidate the guiding position of Marxism in the realm of ideology of scientific research and education in colleges and universities.

1.1 Deeply Understand the Spiritual Connotation of the Party’s 20th National Congress

The 20th National Congress of the Communist Party of China has made a series of major achievements in politics, theory, and practice. It has formulated major policies and strategic plans for the development of the party and the country in the new era and new journey. It is a political declaration and action plan for our party to unite and lead the Chinese to build a socialist modern country and comprehensively promote the great rejuvenation of the Chinese nation (Han Qingxiang & Zhang Jian, 2022). After the victory of the 20th National Congress of the Communist Party of China, the Party branch of college students should take practical actions to drive the great majority of students to participate in learning the spirit of the 20th National Congress. The grass-roots student party organizations in colleges and universities should consciously unify their thoughts and actions into the spirit of the 20th National Congress of the Communist Party of China, solidly promote the full coverage of the spirit of the 20th National Congress of the Communist Party of China, carry out in-depth propaganda of the spirit of the 20th National Congress of the Communist Party of China, and achieve full coverage of teachers and students. Grassroots student party organizations in colleges and universities must deeply understand the spiritual essence and rich connotation of the thought of socialism with Chinese characteristics in the new era, arm the mind with ideas, guide learning and practice, and establish a correct world outlook, values, and outlook on life.

1.2 To Earnestly Implement the Regulations on the Work of the Party Branch of the Communist Party of China

The Regulations on the Work of the Branch of the Communist Party of China (Trial) points out that the basic task of the party branch is to publicize and implement the party’s theories, lines, principles and policies; the main work of the party branch of basic students in colleges and universities is to consolidate the guiding position of Marxism in the realm of ideology of colleges and universities, and strengthen the ideological and political guidance of the majority of young students and young party members in China.

1.3 Strictly Comply with the Requirements of College Students’ Party Building Work

The Standards for Student Party Building in Colleges and Universities points out that the main contents of education and training for student party building include: the training of activists to join the party, the training of development objects, the education of preparatory party members and the continuing education of party members. The cultivation and education of student party members should focus on the construction of grass-roots organizations for thematic learning, and arm students’ minds with the party’s theoretical innovation achievements. From the practical work and experience of student party branches, it is necessary to strengthen the continuing education of formal party members in student party branches, pay attention to the ideological guidance of probationary party members, correct the correct motivation of development targets, and guide activists to maintain a high degree of ideological and theoretical consistency with the Party Central Committee.

1.4 Actively Respond to the Changes in Today’s World

Since the outbreak of the COVID-19, the “post-00s” students in colleges and universities have actively responded to the call of the state, conscientiously done a good job of protection, and obeyed the command of the government and the school, which is a true manifestation of patriotism and love for the party. The outbreak of the COVID-19 has made the position of online ideological education more important. The network is an important position for young students to obtain epidemic information and learn. Since the outbreak of the COVID-19 around the world, college students have become more rational about the false reports of western online media against the Chinese people. College students combine professionalism with patriotism and are not deceived by the western media.

2. Approaches and Methods for Theoretical Learning of Party Organizations among Grass-roots Students in Colleges and Universities

The grass-roots student party branch of colleges and universities should build a theoretical learning and preaching platform inside and outside the organization, selecting a group of party branch secretaries, members of the branch committee, and student party members to carry out theoretical learning and explaining, guide young students to learn, understand and write theoretical explanation manuscripts, organize class theory sharing activities, summarize and comment on this kind of activities, and expand and deepen the political learning effect of grass-roots student organizations in colleges and universities.

2.1 Building a Theoretical Learning Platform for the 20th National Congress of the Communist Party of China

It is the primary political task at present and in the future to study, publicize and implement the spirit of the 20th National Congress of the Communist Party of China. The grass-roots student party organizations in colleges and universities should set up a theoretical learning platform, conduct a comprehensive and accurate presentation, achieving the effect of good guidance, practical connection, close to the audience, and comprehensive coverage. In this way, the pertinence and effectiveness of the spiritual explanation can be effectively enhanced. Party members and cadre should take the lead in learning, speaking, studying, and practicing, promote the party’s theoretical innovation achievements to approach students and the masses, consolidate the Party’s and the people’s hearts, thereby expanding social consensus. Grass-roots party organizations should make good use of political rituals, from the oath of joining the party, party spirit experience, volunteer service as the carrier, to conduct political self-examination, deepen education and guidance, and spread political culture (Yao Jun, Wu Jing, & Zhao Kaipeng, 2021).

2.2 Use Excellent Manuscripts, Illustrations, and Online Media to Promote the Results of the Work of the Party Branch

By developing, guiding, and evaluating theoretical presentations, we can form a group of excellent presentations that have a significant impact on the Party branch and grade resonating with the majority of students. We should actively create new carriers of illustrations and illustrations to use online media to publicize the educational achievements of party members in the party branch in colleges and universities. The topics of theoretical study and preaching cover safeguarding the reunification of the motherland, learning the spirit of the 20th National Congress of the Communist Party of China, fighting against the COVID-19 epidemic, Chinese-style modernization, and the spirit of patriotism in the new era. These themes are effectively centered on national policies and social realities, ranging from political, economic, and cultural propaganda to popular science explanations on major events such as epidemic prevention and control.

3. Permeable Education in the Theoretical Study of College Students’ Party Organizations at the Grass-roots Level

From the perspective of the actual work and experience of the student party branch, it is necessary to strengthen the continuing education of the formal student party members in colleges, grasp the ideological guidance of the preparatory party members, correct the correct motivation of the development object to join the party, and guide the Party activists to maintain a high degree of consistency with the Party Central Committee in theory.

3.1 Independent Development from Bottom to Top

College teacher party members should reflect their responsibilities in teaching and scientific research; student party members ought to cultivate youth in diligent learning and diligence (Li Ke, 2017). In colleges and universities, the theoretical propaganda carried out by the party branch of grassroots students in various grades and classes is a bottom-up activity experience. The study of political theory of college students’ party branches is, on the one hand, the self-learning of each party member, and on the other hand, the bottom-up and top-down learning. From bottom to top, it refers to the party activists submit thought reports on time, and form personal realization on the major policies of the party and the state into written words, which are submitted to the party organization for review. From top to bottom, it refers to the secretary of the party branch leading all members of the party branch to strictly implement the Party’s political life standards, implement the “Three Meetings and One Class” system, and maintain the political and contemporary character of the party branch.

3.2 Learn before Speaking and Bring More with Less

For the majority of young students, to speak well about the country’s major policies need to learn by yourself before discussing; write first, then modify; practice before presentation. This model of learning before speaking for young students and young party members is more suitable for contemporary student activities. Through the driving role of a small number of backbone student party members, a good atmosphere of “You share, I learn, and Peers Assistance” has been formed among various universities and colleges. The continuous education of party members has been carried out continuously and maintained vitality forever. The student party members actively and seriously study the party’s major policies and the latest theoretical achievements in advance. On the one hand, it can strengthen the self-education and political promotion of student party members, and on the other hand, the theoretical study of party members does not just stay at the stage of self-absorption and self-digestion, but also through guidance and formulation of the theme and plan of theoretical lectures, transforming the results of theoretical learning to serve the corresponding student masses.

3.3 The Education Process of Party Members Extends Forward and Backward

Before recruiting party members and becoming active members of the Party, young students need to publicly give a theoretical presentation or carefully listen to the theoretical knowledge lecture. After becoming a probationary party member, college activists should assist young students and party activists in learning and writing theoretical presentations, and help students polish and improve the quality of their presentations; finally, the formal party members should assist the branch secretary in actively designing the theme of theoretical presentation, help innovate the forms and modes of the theory knowledge sharing, and enhance the overall effect and atmosphere of the lectures. Theoretical presentation should run through the entire process of Party branch education. On the one hand, it should strengthen the ideological awareness of existing party members and enhance their political standing. On the other hand, it should be included in the quantitative evaluation of the development of student party members in the branch, so that theoretical learning and theoretical propaganda can run through the entire process of cultivating activists for joining the Party, cultivating development targets, educating probationary party members, and continuing education for party members, further purifying the Party branch in the process.

In the new era, college students’ grassroots party organizations should actively carry out a comprehensive process of political education and theoretical learning, so that existing party members in student party branches can improve their political literacy, and cultivate Party membership activists and development targets with high theoretical levels. All colleges and universities, taking the theoretical explanation as the platform, widely unite the young talents of colleges and universities, and cultivate generation after generation of useful talents who support the leadership of the CPC and our socialist system and are determined to fight for the cause of socialism with Chinese characteristics for life.

References

